The State Senatorship.

The Ironwood News-Record of last week contains an interview with the Hon. F. C. Chamberlain. The interviewer called Mr. Chamberlain's attention to the fact that his name had been mentioned as a successor to the Hon. Carlos D. Sheldon as senator from this district, and also as to the hints which had been made that Judge Hubbell had agreed to throw his influence for Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain, according to the interview, stated that many of his friends claimed there had been an apparent understanding between all the counties in the district that the senatorship should be passed around and that in accordance with that understanding Dunstan, of Houghton, Steyens, of Gogebic, and Sawyer, of Ontonagon, had each held it for one term only and that it this course were followed Mr. Sheldon would not be re-nominated and in that case Gogebic county would fairly be entitled to name the candidate on the republican ticket. Mr. Chamberlain also stated that he was a believer under ordinary circumstances that the incumbent of this or any other political office was entitled to a second consecutive term and therefore if Senator Sheldon desired a second nomination it should be offered to him without any opposition. For himself he would not, under any circumstances, allow his name to be placed before the convention, if Senator Sheldon wished to be his own successor.

Mr. Chamberlain also stated that he believed Judge Hubbell would make a first-class United States senator, being experienced, able and brainy and the peer of any who were running against him, and for that reason and also because that the people of the Upper Peninsula wished to see Judge Hubbell, who knows their wants, chosen, he deemed it his duty as well as pleasure to advocate his election, but that there certainly "was no understanding, arrangement or agreement of any kind, not even by implication, whereby Mr. Hubbell or any of his friends should support me (Chamberlain) for the senatorial or any other office in return for having nominated and supported him for the office of United States senator. My support of the gentleman named was entirely voluntary and I know his selection would have been judicious and proper, and would have been eminently satisfactory and pleasing to a very large majority of the people of the Upper Peninsula and of the State and country at large."

After delivering himself of the above very manly and straightforward statement he admitted that he had been urged by many friends to, in the event of Mr. Sheldon asking for a re-nomination, return to the next legislature. He did not consider himself in a position to ask for a re-nomination, having been a member of the house of representatives for the last two terms, but should the republicans of the district re-nominate him he would take great

A Copper Taken From the Mint.

In a letter which inclosed a "rubbing" of a cent, a reader of The Inquirer writes: "In some change received at the mint a few days ago I noticed a penny that attracted my attention. On one side is an Indian head and the words, 'Millions for the contractors,' and on the reverse side the words, 'Not one cent for the widows.' The date of the penny is 1905. A reporter showed the 'rubbing' to R. A. McClure, the veteran and learned editor at the mint, and from him learned that the coin was one of many thousands which were issued by private persons in 1863 and 1864 in order to make up for the scarcity of small coins. The government did not interfere at that time, and the circulation of the tokens was not prohibited until 1867. It is estimated that 5,200 tokens were put out by private parties of copper or brass, and on many of the coins appeared the imprint of business firms. Some catalogued at the mint show a Masonic mark. 'For Public Accommodation,' a portrait of General G. B. McClellan, and any number of trade devices. The coin could only have been paid out at the mint by accident, for the cashier would not permit it knowingly to circulate. The value of this class of tokens, according to a catalogue, is less than 2 cents at selling price.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Logical Indian.

Bishop Whipple of Minnesota says that the Dakota Indians once held a war dance near a mission house. He went to Wabasha, the chief, and said: "Wabasha, you asked me for a missionary and a teacher. I gave them to you. I visit you, and the first sight is this brutal scalp dance. I know the Chippewa whom your young men have murdered. His wife is crying for her husband; his children are asking for their father. Wabasha, the Great Spirit hears his children cry. He is angry. Some day he will ask Wabasha, 'Where is your red brother?'"

The old chief smiled, drew his pipe from his mouth and said: "White man, you go to war with your own brother in the same country; kill more men than Wabasha can count in all his life. Great Spirit smiles; says 'Good white man! He has my book. I love him very much. I have a good place for him by and by.' The Indian is a wild man. He has no Great Spirit book. He kills one man, has a scalp dance. Great Spirit is mad and says: 'Bad Indian! I put him in a bad place by and by.' Wabasha don't believe it!"

A Holiday in Bed.

Two hospital nurses adopted a novel method of spending a fortnight's holiday. They hired a cottage in the country and an old woman to attend on them. From the moment they entered the door until the time for departure came they were never seen, and the villagers naturally concluded that there was some mystery connected with them. Some even thought of consulting the police on the subject. On their way back to the railway station they called on the vicar to give him a trifle for his charities and explained the secret. They were nurses and had spent their whole time in bed. Accustomed to sleep in such snatches as they could get, their notion of a holiday was a period of long and undisturbed repose.—London Standard.

CASH vs CREDIT!

How much can I save, is a question which every thoughtful man puts to himself. He figures his rent, coal, wood, butcher book, store book, and a few other books. By the time he is half through with his book accounts, he despairs of ever saving half the sum he expected. Why? Because he paid about 20 to 35 per cent more for the goods than he would if he bought from us for cash.

The following small price-list is an illustration of how we can save you over $7 on every $25 worth of goods bought.

Holiday Goods!

Our counters and tables are full of holiday goods at prices lower than ever.

Overcoats— and Suits.

Prices on all our Overcoats and Suits are greatly reduced as they must be turned into cash before season is over.

Capes and Jackets!

We still have a good assortment of Capes and Jackets to select from, which you can have at almost any price as they must be cleaned out.

MILLINERY!

Now is your time to buy your Hats and Bonnets and all millinery materials at greatly reduced prices, as all our millinery must be sold before the holidays are over as our milliner will wind up the season. Special Sales! On men's, boys', ladies and children's underwear. Come in and see the bargains we are offering.
